Seward has been most fortunate in having the splendid U. S. Navy band (the President's Own) give daily concerts for its citizens. This is one of the finest bands ever heard in this city and its music is indeed a rare treat. The band boys are a splendid bunch of fellows, who appear willing to entertain our citizens in every way possible. Director Denton has been giving us a varied program, including high class music interspersed with plenty of peppy jazz.

That transport ball team certainly can play ball.

Deputy Marshal Ralph Reed and Town Marshal Jack Walker have been two of the hardest worked men in Seward the past week. Mr. Walker and crew erected the handsome arch at the approach to the dock, and also decorated the wharf.

The Pioneers of Alaska are now receiving $25 per month for men and $30 per month for women, which is a substantial increase. Too much comfort cannot be provided for the worthy citizens in their declining years.

One thing noticeable, and worthy of commendation, is that Seward citizens did not harass the President with untimely complaints and suggestions as to betterment of the Territory. The President is in Alaska on a tour of observation, and constructive results may be expected only after he gets back to Washington and has time to think over the vast amount of information he has received on his trip. All suggestions and complaints should be made to the Secretaries at their hearings to be held here this week.

All along the route of the railroad commendatory reports are pouring in, of the good fellowship shown by President and Mrs. Harding. No man has been denied approach to them and both have shown a human interest in Alaskans and things Alaskan. We believe President and Mrs. Harding will go out of Alaska with the loyal affection of every man, woman and child who had the good fortune to meet them. Which may account for the reason Mr. Harding is president.

Mayor Ray and the Civic committee again thanks those citizens who furnished autos for the Presidential party. The Gateway deprecates the fact that lack of space prohibits the publication of these auto drivers and their passengers.

Mr. H. E. Ellsworth, fortunate possessor of one of the largest and finest cars in town, had the honor of being driver for President and Mrs. Harding.

We made a good showing when the President went through Seward, but just watch our smoke when our distinguished guests return.

The mercury stood close to 90 yesterday in Seward, and it promises to be warmer today. We will yet be plucking bananas and oranges from our back porches.

The officers and men on the naval vessels have swarmed to the hills and lakes the past few days, and if they have not had a good time it is not because they have not tried.

The Standard Oil Company adds about $10,000 a year to Seward's payroll. A few more enterprises like this and we will be able to step some.

Seward rejoices that the Presidential party will return by way of Valdez. The scenic attractions about this the oldest town in the division, are not surpassed anywhere, and the trip over the Richardson road to Key-stone canyon is one that will be remembered by the visitors for years to come. Again we say, we believe the President will enjoy his trip to Valdez as much or more, than to any other part of Alaska.

Saturday Gateway, $3 per year.

Olive Smith, Nina Smith and Claire Payette were Fairbanks passengers on today's train.

Harry Phillips, who has been outside for medical treatment, left for his home in Wasilla today.

Chas. Wulff and son, Henry, with Jos. Bell, left today for a trip down Kenai Lake on a fishing expedition.

Capt. W. P. F. Hill returned to his home in Anchorage this morning after visiting several of the officers on the Henderson for a few days. Capt. Hill is in the Marine Corps.

Mrs. Blanche Cascaden, the well-known Tolovana miner, returned to her home on today's train following a trip outside.

Mel Horner left for Fairbanks on a short business trip.

Miss Grace L. Bean, Effie Fowler and Emily Coates are making the round trip to Fairbanks.

H. F. Coffin and wife were Fairbanks passengers this morning.
